

Fact...

Young people want to talk to their parents and caregivers about health sexuality.

Fact...

Young people want to know about relationships.

Fact...

Young people who feel connected to their family and clearly understand their family's values concerning sexuality and relationships are more likely to avoid risk-taking behaviors.