The Minnesota Sexuality Education Resource Review Panel Recommends the use of this flip chart for the following reasons:

This flip chart is designed as a teaching tool to educate 9-12th graders about HIV/AIDS. The panel stated that the information presented is accurate and up-to-date; developmentally appropriate; and “teacher friendly”. It uses sound educational methodology that is supported by teacher resource materials that accompany it. The panel rated the bilingual (Spanish) presentation as very good.

The panel expressed concern that the resource is racially biased. The majority of people pictured in the flip chart are people of color. The panel expressed concern that students in predominately white communities will not identify with the images and may think that HIV/AIDS does not affect them.
